

Dr. Anita Boros

Administrative organiser with scholarship of the Hungarian Republic (BKÁE-2001), jurist (ELTE-ÁJK-2005). In 2009 obtained PhD degree in administrative procedural law, in 2010 graduated at the Comparative Administrative Faculty of Andrásy Gyula German Language University (LL.M.). At present assistant professor, head of department at the Administrative Law Faculty of Budapest Corvinus University, Head of the Department of International Relations and Training of the Public Procurement Council, editor in chief of Közbeszerzési Szemle (Public Procurement Review), editor of Pro Publico Bono, columnist of Közigazgatás a gyakorlatban (Public Administration in Practice), public body member of MTA (Hungarian Academy of Sciences), secretary of the Administrative Section of the Hungarian Association of Jurists and member of examination boards in public administration exams. Her fields of research are administrative procedural law and public procurement law.